

SUNROOM WINDOWS EARN PRESTIGIOUS CERTIFICATION

TEMO Sunrooms Recognized for Excellence with AAMA Gold Label

Clinton Township, MI – April 7, 2004 – TEMO Sunrooms, Inc. today announced that all its windows now display the prestigious American Architectural Manufacturers Association (AAMA) Gold Label Certification endorsement – an exclusive achievement in the sunroom industry, noting window superiority.

“Understanding what qualities a sunroom window should have and how one window measures up against another can be confusing to homeowners considering a sunroom purchase,” said James Hall, TEMO President. “AAMA Certification eliminates that guesswork.”

AAMA provides independent third-party window product performance verification and certification. Products that carry AAMA’s distinctive Gold Label meet the industry’s highest standards, providing an assurance of quality to builders, dealers and homeowners. Many federal or local building codes and administrators often require AAMA certification.

Both TEMO’s single-pane and double-pane insulated window units passed six demanding performance tests to achieve AAMA Gold Label Certification. These included: sash-to-glass construction, air and water resistance, security against intruders and operation ease.

“These are the window qualities of most concern to sunroom owners,” said Hall. TEMO windows also feature High-Performance Glass to regulate interior sunroom temperatures season to season, an integrated solar UV ray shield to protect furnishings and exclusive exterior glass coatings to deflect dirt accumulation.

TEMO has made offering homeowners AAMA Gold-Label certification a priority, supporting TEMO’s position as an industry leader. TEMO set standards starting with their innovation of thermal roof and wall technology in the early 1970s and developed more than 24 exclusive sunroom features and designs, including the Signature Collection sunroom, introduced January 2004, featuring total architectural integration and an optional industry-first thermal sunroom hip roof.

TEMO sunrooms are manufactured in Clinton Township. They are sold and installed through a national network of 150 TEMO-authorized home improvement companies. TEMO sells its sunrooms locally in Michigan through Tony V’s Sunrooms and Spas, its two retail showrooms, located in Clinton Township and Canton.
